Andrew M. Barber, Eaq., editor of the Ostego Republican, died at his residence in Cooperstown, N. Y., on Friday last. Mr. Barber was a native of this city, and learned his trade with James Atkinson, Esq. He removed to Cooperstown in [839, where he has since, resided, and conducted the Republican. He was a man of discerning mind and good talents.

The August Term of the Supreme Court commenced in this city yesterday; in consequence of the ill health of Chief Justice Staples, who was on the beach, the charge to the Grand Jury was delivered by Judge Brayton.

BROWS UNIVERSITY .- Rev. Dr. SEARS, we are informed, has accepted ,the presidency of Brown University, and will enter office at the commencement of the enquing turm, which will be early in September.

Mr. Cohen, assigned of Adams & Co. having challenged James King, of Wilman, ex banker, the latter refused to fight for moral reasons. He says to the second of Mr. Cohen, however :-

"Do not flutter yourself, sir, that this communication is made out of regard either to yourself, or Mr. Cohen. I write this for publication in the newspapers. I avow principles of which I am not ashamed, and shall abide the result.

Twelve autograph sermons of Luther have recently been discovered at Raksan. in Hungary. A Hungarian paper says :-" The manuscript is bound in vellum, and contains twolve sermons, written on thick brownish paper, in laded, though still very legible black letters. The margin of the leaves shows marks of having formerly been gilded. Each separate sermon is signed with Luther's amograph signature ; and all these signatures are so nlike to each other, that their being written with one hand is beyond a doubt."

DEPARTED—FOR A TIME.—We learn from the Washington Star that Wm. W Senton, Esq., of the National Intelligences has gone to Europe on a tour for relaxation and observation. The Star hundsomely and Justly observes :---

Col. Season carries with him the kindest regard and best wishes of all his fellow citizens, for all know his intelligence; publie spirit, and public and private worth, as domonstrated by nearly half a century o nctive identification, not only with Am ri can public affairs, as one of the conductor of parhaps, we may justly call it, the lead ing newspaper in the Union, but with the municipal and local affairs of this city. which he has served as its chief magistrate and of which he has been, almost through out its whole existence, a leading, public spirited and truly benevolent citizen.

REVOLUTIONARY RALICS.-One of the most interesting scraps of Revolutionary history connected with New Haven, was the murder of old Deacon Beers, grandfather of the present Dr. Beers, of this city It will be remembered that when the British made their entrance in New Haven old Dr. Beers, who was then some 70 years of age, was standing in the doorway of his house, watching the soldiere as they passed. Having met with several repulses and the loss of one of their officers. hat a few moments previously, they were greatly enraged and prepared for any act of violence; and seeing the old Descon standing in his door, they wheeled about and several shots were fired, some of which took effect, killing him instantly The same building now stands on the corner of Chapel and York streets, and must be upwards of a hundred years old. A day or two since, while some carpenters were engaged in repairing the house, they dug out of the boards near the door, three rifle bullets, which have been abown to us, and there can be no doubt but that they were the same which were fired on that occasion, The circumstances with which they are connected render them among the most in-

Kissing in THE DARK .- The correspondent of the New York Times says the fellowing anecdote of Horace Vernet is amubably not a grain of truth in it :"

The artist was coming from Versailles to the city in the cars. In the same compartment with him were two ladies whom he had never seen before, but who evidently were acquainted with him. They examined him very minutely, and commented upon him quite freely, upon his martial bearing his hale old age, his military pantaloons, &c. The painter was annoyed, and determined to put an end to the persecution. As the train passed under the tunnel of St-Cloud, the three travellers were wrapped in completes darkness. Vernet raised the back of his hand to his mouth and kissed it twice, violently. On emerging from the obsentity he found that the Indies had withdrawn their attention from him, and were accusing each other of having been kissed by a man in the dark. As they arrived at Paris, Vernet on leaving them said, "Ladies, I shall be puzzl d all my life by the inquiry, ' Which of these two ladies was it that kissed me?""

LITERARY .-- With the abundant crop of vegetable staples this autumn, we are to have a rich harvest from the fields of literacure,-flowers of song, fruits of travel, weeds, underbrush and stately pines,tint is, trash and noble thoughts. Longderings, Ruskin's Harbors of Engined as depicted by Turner, another domestic nov-6: by Miss Brower, and Duykinck's Cyc'opedia, are among the promised works. ei her in press or manuscript. Another fiction by Miss Harland, the Richmond maiden who made such a hit by her first effort, called "The Hidden Path," and "Isora's Child," the work of a sister in law of one of your most emin at legal men, are just issued by J. C. Dorby, and will deligh t the lovers of popular fiction by the sustained interest of story, dialogue, and character they afford. John Brougham, the actorbrings into the literary market "A Basket of Chips," said to be the reverse of dry! and "Our Consin Vervinea," by Miss Wormley, is said to be an imitable picture of Virginia life, written in admirable style. and with true insight, seen to appear .--N. Y. Cor. Bost. Trans.

A San Spectacus.-The plague boat (a barge which the authorities have fitted up to convey the sick to the temporary hospital at the race course) lies in the slip close to our vessel, and yesterday I crossed the deck to look at the arrangements. Large uil of the feelish girls, and left the wise matrasses are spread on the bottom of the best and an awning is spread over all. In l the boat were two men, three boys because the ages of 8 and 10, a little girl about 4 years old, and an empty coffin. Two of the boys were orphans. The little girl ant beside one of the men, who was probably her father. As he rolled and tussed with the fever, his hat was displaced; she picked it up and enderwored to replace it, but he seemed anconscious of her attentions. Once he opened his eyes and gazed vacantly at me, then closed them as if the effort was painful. The little girl sat there, so un onscious of danger and death; that I felt as it she way safe. Her innocept, guildies, co intenuice seemed in pleasant contrant to the sad find auxious lagos I met at every turn I felt sad, speculating on her probable history. Doubtless her mather is dead, and her father dying ; will she look back in after years to wish that she had died in that hour, or rather to bless the God of the latherless .- Letter from Norfolk.

The Prohibitory Law.-The Judges of the Supreme Court of New York have randezed their decision in the sasses of Biarberricke and Toynebec. The first was ried for selling lager beer, and found puilty by the Dutchess County Court The present decision reverses the judgment of the lower court, and discharges the priseners of arrest. Toynebec --- a botel keeper in Brooklyn-was found guilty of selling brandy, in violation of the Prohibitory Law fineit $50, and the liquore declared forfeited by Justice Smith, Court of Sessions. T e present decision reverses the forme judgments. Alt the Judges, Brown Strong and Rockwell, were unanimous that the former judgment should be reversed-but the latter could not concur fully in the opinion of the former that the prohibitory clauses were unconstitutional. Judge Brown maintains that intoxicating liquors are property in the fullest sense; that the Legislature cannot alter their nature, and cannot therefore forbid their sale. The Legislature cannot declare liquor to be a nuisance; the right to impost conveys the right to sell.

GOOD AND BAD Novels .- The late Miss Bronte, author of "Jane Eyre," is reported to have said, that no author ought to write a book unless he or she can add something to literatue, from individual ofservation. after works prove that she practised this wholesome tule. It is to be regretted that all authors do not imitate her example. A really meritorious book, even if merely a fiction, is a direct contribution to the cause of civilization. But the floods of immenture volumes which are annually poured upon the country, especially those devoted to fiction, vitiate the taste, and deprave the morals of the community. The mere book maker, the modern literary back instead of hency a benefit to mankind, is really an injury. To read is not to acquire knowledge, unless that which is read contains something new; and in novels we cannot have this, unless anthors write from their own experience. Nine-tenths of the fiction published are mere reproductions, weak copies of others that have preeeded them. Is it a wonder that men of sense rarely read novels now-a-days?---Phil. Ledger.

MRS. ROSISA TOWNSEND,-The Police Tribune, Albany, says that this woman, who kept the house in Thomas street, in which Helen Jewett was murdered, is residing at Castleton, where she married a few years since a respectable carpenter, with whom she lives in a manner that commands the respect of her most fastidious neighbors. She is a member of the church and has long been noted for her untiring benevolence. These facts indicate that the road to forgiveness is open to all who

A letter from Lime narrates the diffi ntty between our government and the Peruvian authorities, which threatened serious consequences and was settled by the interference of our minister, Mr. Clay, and the U. S. Frigate Independence. It appears that Capt. Adams, of the American ship John Commings, had shot one of his mates for muriny-for which the Pernylan authorities had arrested and tried him, found blin guilty and sentenced him to death. Mr. Clay denied that they had any jurisdiction over the case, and under threat of forcibly rescuing Captain Adams and his ship, succeeded in offecting his release.

POPULATION OF NEW YORK .-- A CONSUS just completed of the metropolitan city, shows that the population of New York has now reached 623,626. In 1850 the population was 515,394, and in 1845, 371 -223. This shows an increase during the last five years of 21 per cent; during the preceeding five of nearly 40 per cent.

REVOLUTIONARY Relics .- One of the most interesting scraps of Revolutionary history connected with New Haven, was the murder of old Deacon Beers, grandiather of the present Dr. Beers, of this city It will be remembered that when the British made their entrance in New fieven old Dr. Boers, who was then some 70 years of age, was standing in the doorway of his house, watching the soldiers as they passed. Having met with several repulses and the loss of one of their officers. but a few moments previously, they were greatly enraged and prepared for any act of violence; and seeing the old Deacon standing in his door, they wheeled about and several shots were fired, some of which took effect, killing bin instantly The same building now stands on the corner of Chapel and York streets, and must he unwards of a hundred years old. A day or two since, while some corpenters were engaged in repairing the house, they dug out of the bounds near the door, shree rifle bullets, which have been abown to us, and there can be no doubt but that they wer? the same which were fired on that occasion. The circumstances with which they are connected render them among the most intaresting revolutionary relics.-New Haten

The Prohibitory Law.-The Judges of the Supreme Court of New York have randered their decision in the cause of Biarberricke and Toynebuc. The first was ried for selling lager beer, and found pullty by the Dutchess_County Court The present decision reverses the judgment of the lower court, and discharges the priseners of arrest. Toyachee-a hotel keeper in Brooklyn-was found guilty of selling brandy, in violation of the Prohibitory Law fined $50, and the liquors declared forfeited by Justice Smith, Court of Sessions. T e present decision reverses the forme judgments. All the Judges, Brown Strong and Rockwell, were unanimous that the former judgment should be reversed-but the latter could not concur fully in the opinion of the former that the prohibitory clauses were unconstitutional. Judge Brown maintains that intoxicating liquors are property to the fullest sense; that the Legislature cannot alter their nature, and cannot therefore forbid their sale. The Legislature cannot declare liquor to be a nuisance; the right to impose conveys the

The following recommendations have been furnished gratuitously—

Lunsville, Jan. 27, 1851.

The Lightning Conductors on the plan of J. Spratt, of Ciminouti, appear to be very well devised, and in point of mechanical construction, are the best I have ever scene.

It is to be looped that the use of these rods may become general as an important muxiliary delence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.
